BALL FLIGHT CLINICS

When learning the game of golf from a ball hitting perspective, there are two basic questions that we are trying to resolve. The first is can you hit the right part of the golf ball to launch it up in the air. The second is can you launch the ball on your desired target line and then curve (or not curve) your ball in the desired direction. If you're not sure why your golf ball curves, or how to have a game plan to modify your ball flight, consider the following dates and programs listed below to change your game.

Saturdays 12:30 - 2:00 p.m. | $60 per participant

Limited to the first 5 participants

July 23 & September 24 | Find Your Straight

How do you find your straight for the day? Learn an exercise with two major benefits! This exercise will help you manage your golf game long term, as well as give you a game plan for each round of golf.

August 27 & October 22 | Set Up & Dynamics

Learn multiple skills (through set up and dynamics) to help you hit different shapes of shots. Define your hierarchy of shots to help you execute more efficiently out on the golf course.
